

Embleton Care Featured in Australian Ageing Agenda

May 2008

Embleton Care has been featured in the Australian Ageing Agenda (formerly known as the National Healthcare Journal).

The Journal highlights industry best practice in residential and community aged care.

The article discusses Embleton Care's innovative activities program that involves resident cooking classes. The author highlighted the facilities unique ability to have residents interacting with catering staff.

